The Lord said

to whomever I send you
do
whatever I command you
with no fear existing because I am with you

you are young
you shall go
now
you shall speak
my words in your mouth
before them
as I set you over kingdoms.

He

extends his hand
to form me
I am now
demolishing, planting, building

touches my lips
to place words in my mouth and tell me to listen for a prophet who is speaking

And you see

I am watching
a boiling cauldron
that will boil over extinguishing their incense

I am fulfilling my word in the north
ending their wickedness to strange gods.

And prophecy

all that I command you
by pronouncing my sentence they will fight against you against the whole land
because I am with you

but be not crushed
I will protect you
and they will not prevail against the priests and the people I will deliver you.
